

Eisenhower Attack Ousts Matthews As Aide Of McCarthy

WASHINGTON (P) — A vigorous blast from President Eisenhower, fired over the head of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.), has blown J. B. Matthews out of the investigating job in which McCarthy had sought to keep him.

"Alien to America," the President said in obvious reference to the statement in a magazine article by Matthews that 7,000 Protestant clergymen are "the largest single group supporting the Communist apparatus" in this country.

McCarthy promptly accepted the resignation of Matthews, whom he has called "a star spangled American," as executive staff director of the Senate investigations subcommittee which the Wisconsin senator heads.

Admits Defeat

Matthews acknowledged defeat within a few minutes after the White House made public Eisenhower's denunciation of his views.

He submitted his resignation as executive staff director of McCarthy's subcommittee, with a defiant declaration that his article in the American Mercury magazine "is completely factual and fully documented." He has emphasized that he wrote that the vast majority of clergymen are loyal.

In cutting words, Eisenhower had made public a message to a religious group declaring that "I fully share" its protest that Matthews' accusation was "unjustified and deplorable."

"Such attacks portray contempt for the principles of freedom and decency," Eisenhower said in a telegram to the three national co-chairmen of the Commission on Religious Organizations of the Na-

Rhee Likely To Okay Truce

WASHINGTON (P) — South Korean President Syngman Rhee and Assistant Secretary of State Walter Robertson were reported today to have made substantial progress toward an agreement under which Rhee would go along with an armistice ending the Korean War.

Well-informed authorities said that according to their latest information the conclusion of a full and final agreement with Rhee by Robertson could be almost instantly achieved, if the 78-year-old Korean leader did not again change his mind.

Some officials said the understanding amounted to an agreement. Others, apprehensive about the way Rhee has vacillated in the past between co-operating with a truce and going on with the war, said nothing could be counted as concluded until signed and sealed.

In Seoul, where the Washington report was received in the first hours of Saturday, Korean date, the first South Korean sources contacted said they didn't know of any near agreement although one source said there had been progress toward one.

Sources were not immediately available at the U. S. Embassy in Seoul due to the hour.

St. Louis Negro Killer Executed

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (P) — A youthful St. Louis Negro, outwardly calm and praying for the man he killed, went to his death in Missouri's lethal gas chamber early today.

Kenneth Boyd, 23, died for the slaying of Sam Barenfeld, a St. Louis grocer, Jan. 13, 1951.

On his way to the execution chamber, he prayed for his victim as well as the judge who sentenced and the jury which convicted him.

Boyd got $30 in the robbery.

Watters, shown here with his "space man," later heard an anatomy professor call it a skinned monkey. (NEA Telephoto)

Hunting Dates, Limits Fixed

HIGGINS LAKE (P) — Michigan's small game and bird hunters will have only a few new rules to learn when they go into the woods this fall.

Seasons and bag limits for fox and gray squirrel, cottontail rabbit and snowshoe hare, pheasant, prairie chicken, sharp-tail grouse and migratory game birds were approved by the State Conservation Commission here Thursday with little change from last year. The grouse season was cut in the Upper Peninsula from last year's Oct. 1-Nov. 10 to Oct. 1-Nov. 1 this year because of the declining grouse cycle.

It was voted to allow no small game hunting in the lower peninsula before 10 a.m. on Oct. 20, opening day of the pheasant season, because early hunting that day creates an enforcement problem.

George A. Griffith of Grayling was elected commission chairman. He succeeds Harold W. Glasson of Lansing, who remained on the commission after the Senate failed to approve the appointment by Gov. Williams of Ben East of Holly.

Gerald E. Eddy was re-elected director of the department and Fred Struhaker was re-elected commission secretary.

The Lakeland Pipeline Co. constructing an oil line from western Canada across Michigan to Port Huron and Sarnia, was allowed easements to cross state lands despite objections from the city of Detroit.

The city obtains its water supply from Lake St. Clair and feared the new pipeline might create additional pollution problems.

Alaskan Volcanoes In Eruption, Spread Ash

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (P) — A black pall of acrid, sulphurous smoke spread for hundreds of miles over this land of the midnight sun today, and a thick blanket of ash sifted down from five volcanic eruptions.

The violent upheaval from three, and possibly more, newly active peaks in the Aleutian range 80 miles west of here was touched off early Thursday.

In the next 10 hours, five heavy explosions sent flame, smoke and lava chunks shooting miles into the sky. An Air Force pilot said the smoke columns reached upward at least 50,000 feet.

As an example of the weight of the dust, the Fish and Wildlife Service reported that 2,831 pounds per acre fell before mid-afternoon at its Lake Hood seaplane base. An airways operator here shoveled up 34 pounds of ash from a 10 by 7 foot area.

More Eruptions Likely

Known to have ripped off their tops were 11,500 foot Mount Spurr, 10,600 foot Mount Torbert and an unnamed cone nearby 4,500 feet high. The Air Force said other volcanoes in the wilderness region across Cook Inlet may have come to life.

Smoke and ash still poured from the craters today, and the possibility was strong more eruptions would follow.

Danger to human life was slight, however.

Mount Spurr was the first to blow up Thursday. A mushroom cloud belched out with a giant roar. Other blasts followed. Then in the afternoon the earth rumbled with an eruption as large as the first.

Spectacular Display

The spectacular volcanic display was described as the most awesome since Mount Katmai, in the valley of 10,000 smokes, went on a rampage 41 years ago.

Tons of ash fell on this city of 40,000—Alaska's largest.

Runways at Elmendorf Air Force base were covered with four inches of the reddish dust from the morning volcanic bombardment.

City lights were blotted out as the black cloudy blotted out the almost perpetual light of the summer months. Cars groped through the eerie, unnatural dusk with headlights blazing. Townspeople donned slickers and carried um-

Beria, No. 2 Communist, Fired And Denounced As Enemy Of Soviet People

Forest Fire Kills 15 In California

WILLOWS, Calif. (P) — Fifteen men were reported to have perished in an explosively violent fire in Mendocino National Forest during the night.

The information came from the Glenn County sheriff's office. It was told that thirteen of the dead were members of New Tribes Mission, a religious organization with missionaries in remote places of the Americas.

The other two were federal forest service men.

Bulldozers were pushing trails into the area this morning in an attempt to remove the bodies.

The fire, which started innocently enough Thursday afternoon, whipped into unnatural fury as it crowed through 300 acres of scrub oak, chaparral and brush about 30 miles west of Willows, and some eight miles east of Alder Springs.

Temperatures were high in the upper 90s—throughout the forest area Thursday.

The firefighters moved in as smoke and flames were seen at about 3:15 p. m. Thursday.

There seemed no reason for unusual concern. But during the night the blaze developed with furious and bewildering speed and the men were trapped.

President Eisenhower Flies To Drought Area

AMARILLO, Tex. (P) — President Eisenhower, on a surprise flying visit to the drought disaster conference of seven governors, today was scheduled to meet spokesmen for cattlemen demanding federal price supports.

Some 500 embattled Southwestern stockmen from five states formed a new organization in a meeting at nearby Dalhart Thursday. They urged the federal government to put a price support program for cattle into operation immediately.

Association Attacked

(2) The nation's economic life depends on the prosperity of the ranchers and farmers and the present crisis in the cattle industry could well be the "breeding ground" for another depression.

(3) The leadership of existing cattlemen's associations which have opposed price supports for cattle does not represent the sentiments of 95 per cent of the cattlemen in the Southwest.

In a spirited four-hour session Thursday stockmen from Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, New Mexico and Colorado, blasted the established state cattlemen's associations.

Cornell Township Bond Issue For Roads Rejected

LANSING (P) — An attorney general's opinion held today that townships may not issue bonds to improve their roads and bridges.

The opinion said that a 1903 law permitting such bond issues was repealed in 1931 by implication in the McNitt road act. The opinion referred to a State Supreme Court decision that "today we have no township roads."

In the first six months this year, the bureau said, 550,851 persons came to Chicago for 501 meetings and conventions. The bureau estimated they spent $86,560,000 while in the city.

Federal Aid Pledged

Governors at the meeting will be from Texas, Colorado, Kansas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Arizona and Arkansas. The meeting was called by Gov. Allan Shivers of Texas on suggestion of Gov. Dan Thornton of Colorado.

Eisenhower noted he already has allocated eight million dollars from federal emergency funds to help designated drought areas where

Chicago Expects Million Visitors For Conventions

CHICAGO (P) — More than a million visitors will come to Chicago to attend about 1,000 meetings and trade shows this year, the Chicago Convention Bureau said today.

In the first six months this year, the bureau said, 550,851 persons came to Chicago for 501 meetings and conventions. The bureau estimated they spent $86,560,000 while in the city.

Seek Gas Treaty

At the conference Bennett said the State Department will be used to begin talks with Canada aimed at:

1. A treaty between the two countries that would provide for a mutual exchange of natural gas.

2. Convincing Canadian officials that the Wisconsin-Michigan route would be the most economical for the projected trans-Canada pipeline. It would enter this country at Superior, Wis., cross northern Michigan and the Upper Peninsula of Michigan, crossing the Straits of Mackinac to Port Huron, Mich., and Sarnia, Ont.

The Treasury had opposed the bill on the ground it would cost the federal government 200 million dollars annually through lost revenues.

But he contended this not only would be longer than the Wisconsin-Michigan route, but would be less economical because of the lack of markets in the wilderness north of Lake Superior.

Bennett conceded there has been strong Canadian sentiment for an all-Canadian pipeline following the northern shore of Lake Superior.

House Committee
Votes To Take Tax
Off Movie Tickets

WASHINGTON (P) — The House Ways and Means Committee today approved a bill to take the 20 per cent federal tax off tickets to movie theaters.

The vote was reported as 22 to 3.

The bill does not remove the tax from admissions to sports events, legitimate theaters and other places of amusement.

The Treasury had opposed the bill on the ground it would cost the federal government 200 million dollars annually through lost revenues.

The staff of the Joint Congressional Internal Revenue Committee estimated the tax loss at from 100 to 150 millions dollars annually.

Ouster Shows Struggle For Soviet Power

Editors: Eddy Gilmore was an AP correspondent in Moscow from 1941 until 10 days ago, when he and his family left for the United States. Now in Stockholm, he examines various aspects of the purge of Lavrenty P. Beria.

By EDDY GILMORE
STOCKHOLM, Sweden (P) — Lavrenty P. Beria's expulsion from the Communist party and Soviet government means that Premier Georgi Malenkov — and perhaps others—now feel strong enough or desperate enough to doom the supreme policeman to utter disgrace.

In this mighty struggle for Stalin's power, which does not necessarily appear to have ended, the sensational action against Beria was a natural development.

Just before I left Moscow, high members of the party and government on June 27 watched the premiere of a new opera at the Bolshoi Theater.

Beria Not Present

Oddy, Beria's name was not listed among those present.

"Do you suppose that it's already happened?" one Western diplomat asked me, referring to what we all expected in the power struggle—the inevitable arrest of someone on top.

The cold-eyed Beria has been damned by the most terrifying phrase of all in the Soviet lexicon—an enemy of the party and people.

On top of this he has been branded an international imperialist agent, a sickeningly familiar expression.

He'll Get The Works

It seems certain that the Supreme Court, which now has his case in its hands, will give him the works.

Another mighty question of the moment: has the struggle for power been halted with Beria's disappearance?

Is someone else, in the hours before dawn, (dramatic things always happen in Russia shortly before sunrise) going to be accused of being an enemy of the party and people and an international imperialist agent?

Anything can happen in Russia.

The appointment of Sergei Kruglov, already a high-ranking policeman, is intriguing for this great lumbering fellow was and is a friend of V. M. Molotov.

Leaders on both sides predicted a bill to extend the tax for six months, from June 30 to Jan. 1, would be passed,

Birds Eye Co. Purchases Mill At Rapid River

Purchase of Anderson Brothers Mill at Rapid River by Birds Eye Veneer Company of Escanaba and the leasing of some land including the lumber yard was announced today by Julie Lee, Birds Eye Veneer Company president.

The mill was purchased from Peter and Magnus Anderson, brothers of the late Stone Anderson, Rapid River mill operator for many years. The yards are leased from George Anderson.

It is proposed to operate the mill on an experimental basis to augment some processes now performed at mills of the Birds Eye Veneer Company in Escanaba, Lee said.

Will Convert Mill

At the present time the Birds Eye Veneer has three mills at its plant here, which are not entirely satisfactory because they are located outside, Lee explained.

"We don't know just when we will begin sawing at Rapid River. Next week we will start to make what changes are necessary after we have determined the condition of the mill."

The intention is to utilize the mill at Rapid River to shape kants and flitches from hardwood timber of all species and to make some lumber.

"Some changes will have to be made in the mill to do the kind of work we want to do there," Lee said.

Employ Few More

Purchase of the Anderson Brothers Mill by Birds Eye Veneer was completed earlier this week.

"It will mean only slight additional employment for us," said the Birds Eye Veneer Company president. "At the most we expect to put on not more than 10 additional men."

The Anderson Brothers Mill was purchased by them in 1930 from the Collins Land & Lumber Company. Originally it was started as a shingle mill in 1900 and then converted to a saw mill in 1906.

The Birds Eye Veneer Company is recognized as the largest producer of veneers in the world.

Alex McLeod, 77, Of Van's Harbor, Dies At His Home

Alex McLeod, 77, of Van's Harbor died at his home today at 7:30 a. m. of a heart attack.

Born Nov. 5, 1875 at Alpena, Mich., Mr. McLeod worked most of his life time as a woodsman or commercial fisherman. He is a former Gladstone resident, but he has resided at Van's Harbor for the past 35 years.

He is survived by his wife, the former Matilda Wilson; one son, Louis McLeod of Gladstone; two daughters, Mrs. William (Estelle) Beveridge Sr. of Gladstone and Mrs. Leo (Beatrice) Foye of Manistique; 11 grandchildren and nine great grandchildren, and two brothers, Duncan of St. Ignace and John of Canada.

Friends may call at the Skradski funeral home at Gladstone after 10 a. m. Sunday.

Graveside funeral services will be held Monday at 11 a. m. at the Garden cemetery where the burial will be made.

Dr. C. C. Campbell Dies Suddenly At New Home In Rome

Dr. Colin C. Campbell, prominently known as Ashley, N. D., physician, and a brother-in-law of Mrs. Eric Froberg of 1021 1st Ave. S., died unexpectedly yesterday at the home of his son, Colin C. Campbell Jr. in Rome, N. Y.

Dr. Campbell had retired recently after practicing in Ashley 44 years, and he and his wife had moved to Rome to make their home a month ago. Before going to North Dakota he practiced in Hermansville and in Florence, Wis., and was widely known in that area.

Surviving in addition to the widow and the one son are a daughter, Mrs. Ross LaLand of Los Angeles and granddaughter, Margaret Ann Campbell of Rome.

Funeral services will be held at Rome Saturday and burial will take place Monday at Ashley.

U. P. Catholics Number 93,563

Catholic population in the U. P. increased 2,352 to 93,563 in 1952, representing nearly one-third of the peninsula's total population of 300,407, according to the National Catholic Directory, published annually from information submitted for publication by individual diocesan chancery offices.

The report notes that only one seminary is maintained in the Marquette diocese, which embraces the U. P. It is Jordan Seminary, operated in Menominee by the Salvatorian order of St. Nazianz, Wis.

The Marquette diocese has 91 parishes served by resident priests and five with parochial stations, but served by priests holding other assignments.

There are six Catholic High schools in the U. P., at Marquette, Negaunee, Laurium, Ironwood, Escanaba and Sault Ste. Marie, with a total enrollment of 1,078 students. In addition, there are 6,337 children attending 28 parochial grade schools. Two hundred and 37 nuns are engaged in full-time teaching in the grade and high schools of the diocese, with 10 priests and two lay teachers augmenting this staff.

Five general hospitals are operated in the U. P. by religious groups. Combined bed capacity of the five hospitals is 431.

Young Husband Held For Trial

IRON MOUNTAIN—Alfred J. Campbell, Jr., 20, of Kingsford, waived preliminary examination Thursday before Justice Claude James and was bound over to the July term of circuit court on a charge of assault, with intent to commit murder, in connection with the June 22 stabbing attack on his wife.

The young husband appeared in court with his attorney, E. J. Dunton. Bond was set at $5,000 cash or $10,000 property, which was not posted. He was returned to the county jail, where he has been confined since the attack.

A twice-wounded veteran of the Korean war, Campbell was arrested on the afternoon of June 22 by Sheriff Pesavento a few moments after he stabbed his 18-year-old wife near her home, 304 East D street. The attack was believed to be the outgrowth of domestic troubles.

The knife shattered as it entered his wife's back and two pieces of the broken blade became lodged near the main artery.

Mrs. Campbell, an expectant mother, was rushed to the Columbia hospital in Milwaukee, where the knife-blade pieces were removed successfully during a three-hour operation.

She was released from the Milwaukee hospital several days later and is recuperating at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Graham Peebles.

The husband was taken into custody when he ran to the sheriff's office, reported the stabbing and asked that an ambulance be called to take his wife to the hospital.

Boy Scouts To Leave Saturday For Jamboree

Sixty-four Upper Peninsula Boy Scouts, including three from Escanaba and four from Gladstone, will leave on the "400" Saturday morning on the first leg of a trip that will take them to the Irvine Ranch near Santa Ana, Cal., for the National Boy Scout Jamboree. Fifty thousand U.S. scouts will attend.

Escanaba scouts making the trip are Richard Harrison, Douglas Perry, and William Hanrahan, and Gladstone scouts are Daniel Sinclair, Franklin Lash, Gerald Tang, and Tom O'Brien of Gladstone Rte. 1.

Also going from this area are two Hermansville scouts, William Daniels and Robert Anderson, and Harlan LaVigne of Nahma.

Many Side Trips

The actual jamboree lasts a week, July 17-23, but the trips out and back will hold many events of interest and the scouts will not get home until July 30.

Among the attractions will be a tour of Chicago and a tour of Salt Lake City. While in Salt Lake City the scouts plan a swim in Great Salt Lake.

In California two days will be devoted to surf bathing. There will be the jamboree itself, when 25,000 tents will be necessary on the great ranch to house the scouts, who sleep two to a tent. Every tent housing U.S. scouts will have a map of the Upper Peninsula on it.

Have Camp Duties

Scouts will cook their own meals over charcoal fires, taking turns as patrol cooks as they will with all jobs. Patrol jobs include: chief cook, assistant cook, fire builder, kitchen cleaner-upper, assistant kitchen cleaner-upper, camp cleaner-upper, and grub carriers.

Other California events will be a trip to Long Beach Pike and Naval Base, and a trip to Knott's Berry Farm.

On the way home scouts will tour the southern rim of the Grand Canyon. They will arrive in Milwaukee at 5 p.m. July 29, and catch the "400" home.

Ten U.S. scout leaders will make the trip. Six are troop leaders and will work with scouts. One is a chaplain. The other three will work with the National Committee at the camp.

Leonard Gardiner, 47, Of Escanaba, Taken By Death

Leonard Edward Gardiner, 47, 1531 Sheridan Road, died yesterday at Appleton, Wis., where he had been employed by the Paeske Lumber Co. for the past year. Death followed a heart attack.

Mr. Gardiner was born Dec. 31, 1905, at Ford River. He married the former Geraldine Shanahan, who survives him.

Besides his widow, he is survived by five sons, Gerald, Richard, Paul, Gordon and Robert, and one daughter, Virginia, all at home; one brother, Earl of Chicago, and two sisters, Mrs. Henning Peterson of Escanaba and Viola Gardiner of Blaney Park.

Friends may call at the Anderson funeral home starting at 4 p.m. today.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday with Rev. James G. Bell officiating. Burial will be made in Lakeview cemetery.

National Forests Headed For Big Recreation Year

Recreation use of the Upper Michigan National Forest seems to be headed for one of its biggest years, C. L. Harrison, Forest Supervisor at Escanaba, reports.

"The June use of camp and picnic areas, bathing beaches, scenic roads and beauty spots throughout the Forest approached the heaviest concentration of record for this period. Usually high temperatures in the large cities to the South is probably the chief reason for the early influx of travelers this year but many Upper Peninsula people have also been using the National Forest outdoor facilities," he said.

Use of surveyed lots in Upper Michigan National Forest for summer home building also is increasing, Harrison states. In the Hiawatha and Marquette forests, 15 to 20 lots either have summer homes already built on them or under construction, and 75 to 80 more lots have been laid out to meet future requests, he noted.

Isolated Spots Too

Most of these lots are located on lakes in the forests, but a number also are available on the high banks of the Indian River. Thirty-year leases, which are both renewable and transferable, can be obtained on these lots by application to the U.S. Forest Service. Building plans are checked by the Forest Service to assure attractiveness, fire protection and adequate sanitation.

Approximately 1.5 million acres of national forest lands of the Upper Michigan Forest are open to the public to use and enjoy, Harrison said. To heighten the attractiveness of the forests, and at the same time provide fire and sanitation protection, the Forest Service has developed numerous camp and picnic areas at the more attractive spots. These areas are equipped with tables, fireplaces, pit toilets, garbage pits, and in some cases docks and bathing beaches.

Guard services are not provided at the bathing beaches so extreme caution is needed in using these spots for swimming. Rules and regulations do not restrict public camping and picnicking to the developed areas, but persons camping at isolated spots are asked to be particularly careful with fire, to clean up the area thoroughly before leaving, and to respect the property rights of others.

The more popular areas so far this year on the Hiawatha National Forest between Gladstone, Manistique and Munising have been the Flowing Well Campground, on Forest Highway 13 north of Nahma Junction; the Camp Seven area near Chicago Lake; Colwell Lake on Highway M-94; Widewaters on Forest Highway 13 at Indian River, and Bay Furnace on the Lake Superior shore, west of Munising.

Use Care With Fire

On the Marquette National Forest in the eastern portion of the Upper Peninsula heavy concentrations of camping have been noted at Brevoort Lake, Lake Michigan swimming area on U.S. 2, west of St. Ignace; Foley Creek, west of St. Ignace; Soldiers Lake on Highway M-28, west of Raco; and at the Big Pine and Bay View grounds along the Lake Superior shores, west of Sault Ste. Marie and Brimley.

Besides his widow, he is survived by one daughter, Mrs. James (Gladys) Webster of Gila Bend, Ariz., six sons, All of Escanaba, Reynold of Flint, Donald and Robert of Chelsea, Wis., Irving of Escanaba and Al/c Ray, who is stationed with the Air Force in Washington, one sister, Sister M. Speciosa of Milwaukee and thirteen grandchildren.

Friends may begin calling at 8 p.m. Saturday at the Alto Funeral Home. Rosary will be recited Sunday at 8 p.m.

Funeral services will be held Monday at 9 a.m. at St. Patrick's Church with Rt. Rev. Martin B. Melican officiating. Burial will be in Holy Cross Cemetery.

Today's Workers Can Look Ahead To Comfort In His Retirement

WHEN the Social Security law was enacted 17 years ago, there were expressions of fear that the federal program was an invasion of private enterprise to the detriment of established insurance companies and their policyholders.

The Social Security act actually has been a tremendous help to insurance companies. For one thing, it has made people more conscious of the need of insurance protection and as a result life insurance companies have greatly expanded their insurance coverage.

In the field of retirement annuities, the Social Security act has been a particular blessing. Social Security payments are not now and probably never will be sufficiently adequate to meet the expenses of a comfortable retirement. They must necessarily be supplemented with additional sources of income for an elderly person and his wife to live in enjoyment of retirement. As a result the life insurance companies are selling annuities in greater volume than ever before in their history.

Peculiarly enough, employers have also become more conscious of an obligation to their employees as a result of the Social Security act. The act requires employers to pay a payroll tax, equal to that paid by the employees, for Social Security benefits. But in addition to these payments and the cost of bookkeeping required by the act, more and more employers are going beyond the legal requirement and are paying for all or a part of the cost of supplementary annuities, purchased from private insurance companies.

Many others are providing their own

Subjunctive—"In the following sentences should was or were be employed: (a) If there (was, were) a mistake, I know I could find it. (b) If the letter (was, were) here with these, it should have been mailed."—F. W. A., Jacksonville, Florida.

Rigid grammarians would insist on were in each instance, but the modern tendency favors was. However, sentence (a) is faulty in another respect. If the past tense is to be employed, the sentence should read "If there was a mistake, I know I could have found it."

menu—J. B. I., Milwaukee, Wis.—In any restaurant, or elsewhere, in the United States you may pronounce menu either MEN-yu or MAYN-yu without fear of criticism.

toff, tuft—"The dictionary says that toff is a corruption of tuft, and that tuft was a tassel worn to indicate rank or nobility. Which of the two would you suggest for use in the name of a school fraternity?"—M. B. O., Waterbury, Conn.

In a democratic country I should not recommend either, but tuft is the less objectionable. Toft is now a term used contemptuously especially in England, for a toff or a dude, a dandy. The term was originally tuft and was applied to a student at Oxford or Cambridge who, as a son of a nobleman or gentleman, was privileged to wear a gold tassel (or tuft) on the university cap. The custom was made optional in 1870, and is no longer observed. But because those privileged young men were better dressed, as a rule, than other students, the term, corrupted in common speech to toff, became generally applied to any man or woman of stylish dress or smart appearance.

punctuation—"Should the abbreviation 'i. e.' be preceded by a semicolon in all instances?"—F. F. F., Morgantown, W. Va.

Because "i. e." (latin, est) means "that is," the Style Manual of the U. S. Government Printing Office treats the abbreviation exactly as it does the English phrase, with a semicolon preceding. But on the other hand, some authoritative reference works—i. e., grammars—say that dashes may be used when "i. e." introduces a parenthetical remark.

pension plans, supplementary to Social Security payments. As a result thousands of workers today can look forward to a retirement pension that will be reasonably sufficient to meet the cost of a comfortable retirement. The days of the poor house are gone forever, and good riddance.

Read Proposals For Revised City Charter

In recent weeks the Escanaba Daily Press has published in advance of public hearings sections of the revised charter as drafted by the charter revision committee. The Press will continue to publish new sections of the revised charter as they are completed by the committee, as a public service to the people of Escanaba.

These sections of the revised charter require considerable space in the newspaper and in view of the small numbers of persons who have attended the public hearings held thus far, the question naturally arises whether the publication of the revised sections is justified.

It is the belief of the Press that the publication of the revised charter is an essential public service. The public should be informed on proposals for changes in the basic structure of city government. We presume that the lack of attendance at the public hearings is not because the people are not aware of the proposed changes but rather that they are aware of them but are satisfied with the proposals.

As further sections of the charter are prepared and published, we strongly recommend that you read the revised sections and acquaint yourself with the proposals. The Press will continue to do its part in bringing them to you.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Inside the White House—The cabinet is split over giving encouragement to restless satellites behind the iron curtain. John Foster Dulles, who campaigned last fall on the idea of encouraging revolt behind the iron curtain, wants to do something. Ike himself is on the cautious side . . . best man to replace Voice of America Chief Bob Johnson is C. D. Jackson, ex-publisher of Fortune, now in the White House as psychological warfare adviser. Jackson knows his propaganda onions, is a human dynamo . . . the White House may have stubbed its toe on another appointment—that of Leonard Walsh to be chief judge of the D. C. municipal court. Somebody forgot Walsh got involved in a hit-and-run accident case in which a jury not only awarded the plaintiff $10,000, but the U. S. Court of Appeals handed down a decision seriously impugning his credibility. Chief Judge D. Lawrence Groner wrote that "he (Walsh) falsely charged the act to another." This, added the judge, "was sufficient to justify the jury in rejecting the whole of his evidence." . . . despite this false testimony, Walsh has now been nominated as chief judge for the District of Columbia . . . Ike is bringing more military men into the White House. The latest, Colen Paul Carroll, assistant to Governor Adams, is efficient, civilian-minded and should be an asset . . . the White House got a phone call from the first wife of General MacArthur the other day, gracious Mrs. Louise Heiberg, suggesting that the best way to calm down old Syngman Rhee was to send her brother, Jimmie Cromwell, over to Korea. Jimmie, who stood by Rhee during his years in exile, probably knows him better than anyone else in the U. S. and would be persuasive. Once married to Doris Duke, Cromwell served under F. D. R. as minister to Canada.

Inside The State Department—Exit of Bob Johnson as State Department propaganda chief was a serious loss for the Ike administration. He had just learned the ropes, was doing a good job . . . real reason he went back to Philadelphia's Temple University was disgust with his boss John Foster Dulles re book-burning; also health. Johnson was on a rice diet for high blood pressure, had orders to take an hour's rest after lunch, another after dinner. Instead he worked from 7 a. m. to midnight . . . but what made it impossible for him to stay was friction with Dulles . . . inside fact is that Dulles himself wrote most of the first two book-burning directives, Johnson got the blame. But Dulles with the help of Assistant Secretary Carl McCord, wrote the first panic-stricken directive, then the second regarding periodicals. These were what caused State Department officials abroad to start dumping books wholesale, even burning some . . . since then a half-dozen directives have been written by other State Department officials trying to rectify the original panic . . . Johnson thought all this made us look ridiculous abroad . . . reports that Johnson had cuddled up to Senator McCarthy were exaggerated. They got started because he invited senators to meet with him on Monday nights, and on one occasion another senator invited McCarthy to come along . . . Cohn and Schine frequently came down to the State Department to get in Johnson's hair, but he did no snuggling.

NEW JERSEY GANGSTERISM—Clendenin Ryan, amateur detective and playboy grandson of Thomas Fortune Ryan who once owned the streetcar lines of New and Chicago, has been giving gay dinner parties in Washington and talking about his campaign to become governor of New Jersey.

It was probably with such a thought in mind that some members of the Texas Restaurant Association have decided to place on their table cards which bear the thanksgiving-before-meals prayers of the Catholic, Jewish and Protestant faiths.

In a great many homes, especially where there are small children, the matter of "saying Grace" is a family rite. But few people say Grace when they go to restaurants.

The restaurant operators are asking in effect: Why should this be? To paraphrase a childhood poem, is not God in the restaurant, just the same as in the home?

So the restaurant operators are putting on their tables printed cards which bear the lovely words of thanks of the three major faiths. They are:

Catholic: "Bless us, O Lord, and these Thy gifts, which we are about to receive from Thy bounty. Through Christ our Lord, Amen."

Jewish: "Lift up your hands toward the sanctuary and bless the Lord. Blessed art Thou, O Lord our God, King of the universe, who bringest forth bread from the earth. Amen."

Protestant: "Bless, O Lord, this food to our use, and us to Thy service, and make us ever mindful of the needs of others, in Jesus name. Amen."

It is a simple thing, but in this materialistic age it is a wonderful thing. After all, there is no shame attached to being seen thanking God for the food we eat. A great many of us seem to have forgotten this.

Questions and Answers

Q—Why is titanium called the "wonder metal"?

A—It is as strong as steel and as light as aluminum.

Q—When was the first poll of public opinion taken?

A—In July, 1824, when the Harrisburg Pennsylvanian reported a "straw vote" in Delaware predicting the election of Andrew Jackson.

There is no reason to believe that eye strain leads to the development of cataract, though of course it can lead to other disturbances of the eye. The most encouraging developments regarding cataracts are those in surgery, which often makes possible their removal before being ripe.

CAUSES NOT KNOWN

The causes of cataract are not known,

At present, the preferred treatment for cataract is an operation. Results are usually good. Formerly, it was necessary to wait until a cataract was mature, or ripe, before it could be removed. Now surgical methods are available which make it possible to remove a lens with a cataract on it at any stage. This is a tremendous advance as it may prevent years of poor vision.

Why Arabs Hate Us:

Oil Is Big Prize In Growing Resentment Against Americans

20TH CENTURY PERSIAN LANDSCAPE: Oil tanks dot the sands of Ras Tanura on Saudi Arabia's Persian Gulf coast, where tankers dock to load vital cargoes of Middle East oil.

EAST MEETS WEST on the oil fields of Saudi Arabia, where an American worker instructs an Arab. Oil flows here, but across the Persian Gulf, where nationalization has tossed out Western know-how, there is only a trickle from the wells.

In Saudi Arabia the American Arabian Oil Co. is chummy with King Ibn Saud. His royalties pass $200,000,000 yearly and even relatives who cannot read have solid gold fountain pens, air-conditioned Cadillacs and private hairdressers for their numerous wives.

A dribble goes into public projects and under American supervision modern medical care is offered desert nomads who never heard of aspirin.

And our generals fret: Suppose Mossadegh invited the next-door Soviets—never involved in the Israel dispute—to run Abadan? We'd be finished without hearing a shot.

The whole Middle East mess sounds as if it was scripted in the Kremlin. Anti-West anger plus almost sub-human poverty are made to order for Marxist big-mouths promising chicken-on-Sunday.

So far the Soviets have been content to keep brass-knuckled cells underground but they have a finger in every riot.

Since the Abadan setback British and American oil outfits seem determined to jolly along the 11,000-mile week-end spree in Beyrouth.

To appease the King's intense Moslemism, U. S. installations are dry as sandpaper and thirsty drillers charter planes for an

BIG AND LITTLE—Texas is a wonderful state. One of the best. But it does not have the longest or largest crude oil pipeline in the world—no matter what the oil companies of the Southwest are claiming.

A recent publication of an oil company magazine reports:

"As of Feb. 25, 1953, the Big Inch took a back seat to a new record breaker in pipeline history. We mean the West Texas Gulf Pipe Line—dubbed by its builders 'The Biggest Inch,' because 465 miles of it are made of pipe 26 inches in diameter, the largest ever used to transport crude oil."

That sounds like the real thing—except that stretching across Michigan and Wisconsin is a pipeline now under construction that is 30 inches in diameter.

And the Michigan-Wisconsin extension of this line (only a part of the total reaching from Canadian oil fields) is 635 miles in length.

When the extension through Wisconsin and Michigan is completed the total length of the line from Edmonton, Alberta, to Sarnia, Ontario, will be 1,765 miles. That's big—for a pipeline that is entirely outside the state of Texas.

BIT OF HISTORY—The oil company magazine further reported, erroneously, that: "The Biggest Inch today may well be a medium-sized inch in a few years."

Actually it was not the "Biggest Inch" last year, either, for Lakehead Pipeline from Alberta to Superior, Wis., was completed in 1950 and was 1,130 miles long. This is nearly three times the length of the "Biggest Inch" in Texas.

Putting comparisons aside, suppose we consider the history of oil pipeline development, as reported in the oil company magazine article written by William H. Walsh.

Within three years after the discovery of oil in America in 1859, a short four-inch wooden line had been built. However, leaks proved too costly and it had to be abandoned.

"Three years later the first working petroleum pipe line, a two-inch made of wrought iron, five miles long, was put in operation. As early as 1860 there were 18,000 miles of pipe line in America," Walsh writes.

SPEEDING THE FLOW—But it was little more than 25 years ago that seamless electrically welded pipe was developed, making long distance pipe-lining possible.

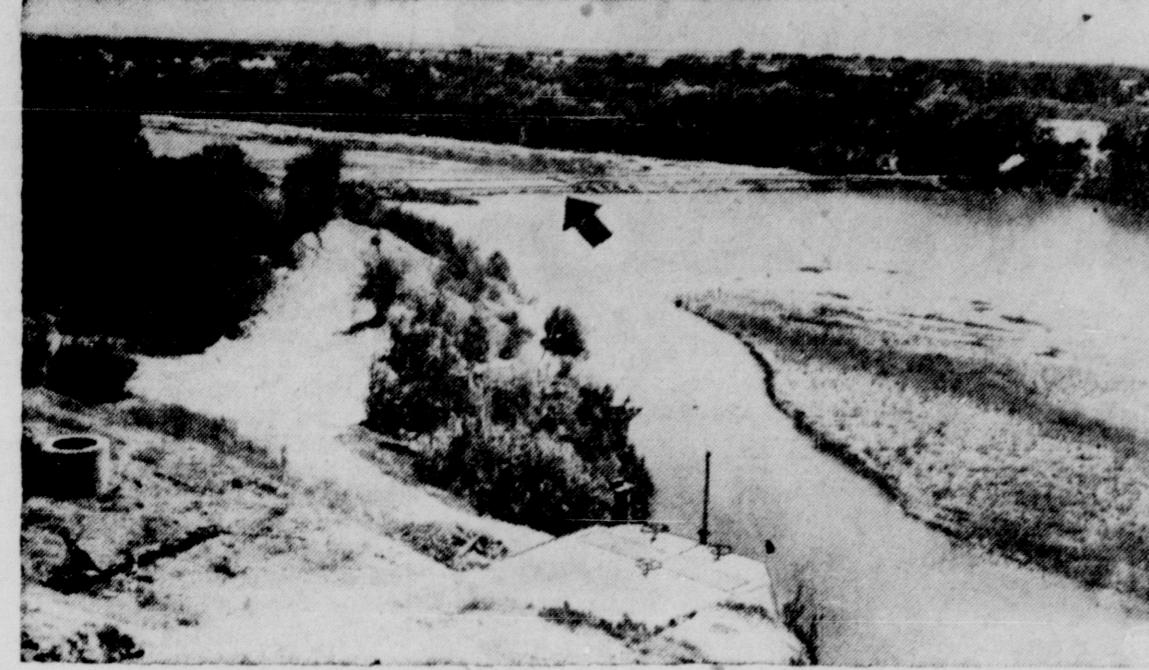

It was also found that pipe did not have to have a thick wall of metal to confine the oil when it was pushed through at high pressures. Lightweight pipe of extremely high tensile strength was found to be the answer to the problem.

The pipeline now being laid across the Upper Peninsula for Lakehead is a 30 inch, high pressure, all-welded steel pipe.

It is designed so that one pump station at Superior, Wis., will

Rio Grande Is Neither Grand Nor Even A Rio

The Texas drought, going into its fourth year, has transformed the mighty Rio Grande River, once a navigable stream, into a sere, brown ghost of its former self. The 250-mile stretch to the Gulf, from Laredo and Nueva Laredo, its Mexican river-mate, is dried up for the first time on record. Above Laredo, a trickle of water is jealously guarded by Mexican soldiers. Water is strictly rationed. Human domestic and sanitary needs come first, animal needs second and irrigation last—if at all. Irrigation water was turned into the Rio Grande's dry bed and an embankment built across the river near the Laredo water system intake. This formed a conservation pool about six inches deep. U. S. border patrolmen doubled their vigilance against illegal entry by Mexicans. Because they used to wade or swim across the river, they are called "wetbacks." Now they merely walk across the dry bed, at no inconvenience except getting their shoes dusty.

Here's the once-mighty Rio Grande at the Laredo water system intake, seen in center foreground. Embankment (arrow) was thrown up to form a conservation pool which will give Laredo 60,000 more cubic feet of water until normal flow resumes. River here is three to six inches deep.

At the Laredo intake, the river is six inches deep and six feet wide—only because upstream irrigation pumping is forbidden. Here waterworks men bulldoze a channel and install a conduit so that water can flow past the Laredo intake to the intake for Nueva Laredo, on the Mexican side, two miles downstream.

Two U. S. Immigration and Naturalization Service border patrolmen check the river near Laredo. Mexican "wetbacks" cross at will, without getting even the soles of their shoes wet. Officers are plagued by average citizens, who walk back and forth from one country to the other without formality of customs inspection.

Fund Requests Heavily Hacked

WASHINGTON (P) — The House Appropriations Committee hacked heavily today into new funds requested by President Eisenhower for civil defense, the "Voice of America" and Air Force base construction.

It recommended, subject to House action next week, an 84 per cent cut in the $1,069,996,084 requested by former President Truman for eight federal agencies and activities, allotting them $168,155,584.

There was no overall comparison with the revised money requests made by Eisenhower. In some cases there was no original Truman budget, particularly in instances where the need for additional funds did not become apparent until after Truman had left office.

Air Force Funds Cut

Much of the money supplements funds already appropriated for the fiscal year that started July 1.

Major cuts imposed by the committee included these:

Air Force construction—No new funds approved. Truman had requested 700 million dollars and Eisenhower 400 millions. The committee approved $240,776,000 and ordered that it be taken from funds available from previous appropriations.

Civil Defense Administration—$37,770,000. Truman had requested 150 millions and Eisenhower approximately 125 millions.

The State Department, for international information and educational activities—60 million dollars. Truman had requested $134,715,800 and Eisenhower $87,900,000.

Critical of "Voice"

Percentagewise, the cuts from the original Truman budget requests were the deepest recommended by the committee this year.

The committee was highly critical of the State Department's foreign information program, which includes "Voice of America" overseas broadcasts, and of the Air Force's handling of its construction program.

It took a verbal poke, too, at Eisenhower's revised budget for the "Voice of America."

"It was represented to the committee that the revised ("Voice") budget estimate was an austerity budget," the committee said. "However, when there is included in that budget a request to double the amount of representation allowances from $50,000 to $100,000, the austerity of such a budget is highly questionable."

Priest's Work In China Described By Father Chang

GARDEN — A Chinese priest who fled from Hong Kong, China, because of Communists, Father Simeon Chang, has returned to a Trappist monastery in Canada following a visit here with the Rev. Ronald J. Bassett.

Father Chang, who was ordained four years ago following studies in China, said the 10 o'clock mass here Sunday and spoke on his work in China.

The Chinese monastery in which he worked was destroyed two years ago by Communists, but a new monastery now is being built on a small island off Hong Kong, so Father Chang and other Trappists will return to China in September.

About a dozen priests fled to Canada after Communist destruction of their monastery, Father Chang told Garden parishioners.

Priests were dispersed and many of them were murdered at the time, he said.

The Chinese are really not Communist-minded — they are hungry, he said while visiting here. The Trappist priest said he feels Communism will be defeated in China, and noted that there is a "real network" of underground activity by Christians in China.

Priests go about doing their work secretly and Christianity is really thriving in China, the Trappist asserted. He noted that there are many martyrs and that events remind one of the catacombs in early Christian history.

The Trappist priest said he felt there is not too much danger for China from Communism, and that he was hopeful the Communists would be driven out.

Bandits and professional soldiers comprise much of the Communist party in China, and are really only a handful compared with the total Chinese population, he observed. They are supported, however, by Russian soldiers, he said.

Father Chang became acquainted with Father Bassett through the Friends of Far East Trappists, an organization formed to help rebuild monasteries in the Far East.

Find Perry's Record Of Exploration Atop Peak

WASHINGTON — Still legible records and a piece of an American flag cached by Robert E. Peary nearly 50 years ago have been recovered by Canadian scientists from a pile of stones atop an 1,800-foot peak overlooking the bleak shore of Ellesmere Island at Cape Columbia.

As is customary in the Arctic, copies of the original documents were made before the documents were placed in the cairn.

Northernmost land in North America, the Cape was Peary's jumping-off place for his dash of discovery to the North Pole in 1909, says the National Geographic Society. Three years before, the famed American explorer had visited Cape Columbia and had built the cairn on the peak, the first of two in the vicinity.

Built A Dozen Cairns

Peary left approximately a dozen cairns across the Northland from the northeast coast of Greenland to western Grant Land and Avel Heilberg Island. Most of them have been visited by later Arctic explorers.

Just a year ago, a United States Air Force party found the most famous of all the Peary cairns, the second one on Cape Columbia. It was built near the beach by members of Peary's party after their leader had returned from the Pole. Apparently the records it once contained had disintegrated.

Peary's 23-year career in the Arctic might be said to have started in 1885 with a visit to a Washington bookshop. There the 29-year-old Navy civil engineer read a paper on the Greenland ice cap. A year later he was to penetrate farther inland on that frozen mass than anyone had ventured before. In 1892 and again in 1895, Peary sledged 1,200 grueling miles across Greenland and back, gaining the experience that later helped carry him to the very top of the world.

Proved Greenland An Island

On his four-year expedition of 1898-1902, he made four attempts to reach the Pole. Frostbitten feet, disintegrating ice and waist-deep snow defeated him. He reached the northernmost point attained to that date in the Western Hemisphere, however. He discovered Cape Morris K. Jesup, most northerly land in the world, and proved Greenland to be an island.

In 1906, cutting his margin of safety as fine as he could, Peary reached a new "farthest north,"

87° 06', but was forced back by cracking ice and exhaustion 174 nautical miles short of his goal. Undaunted by this bitter disappointment, he explored unmapped coasts of western Grant Land.

In 1909 he succeeded in crossing the 413 nautical miles of ice-covered sea from Ellesmere to the Pole. Advance and supporting parties aided him until he was 133 miles from the goal, when he went on to victory accompanied by four Eskimos and his Arctic assistant of long standing, Matthew Henson. The date of his triumph was April 6.

'Batter Up' For Baseball Party

INDOOR BASEBALL PARTY for youthful fun. Includes baseball cakes and fruit juices for the table and "quizzle" games for play.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Baseball and eats — that's the formula to keep boys happy in summertime. But when it rains, what? Then give them an indoor baseball party. There's a new baseball "quizzle" book that combines quiz and puzzle technique to dramatize the high points of the great American game. Our youngest boy, aged 8, and his friends pore over it for hours.

How about "eats"? Well, you can make realistic baseball cakes that will thrill the youthful big leaguers. And, of course, hamburgers or hot dogs and soda pop belong in this big game party, too.

Baseball Cakes

Use pound cake, white cake or angel cake, made with a mix or by your favorite recipe; or buy the cake ready made. Cut pound or white cake into two-inch cubes. With a small knife carefully round off corners. Save the scraps of cake for a pudding.

With a teaspoon pour fondant frosting over the "baseballs." When the frosting is hard, "paint" the lacings on each ball with a clean water color paint brush dipped in red food color. Be sure the frosting is dry before applying "paint."

If you have no good daylight in your home, you'll have to use artificial light. The best kinds light your mirror from behind or at sides, top and bottom, so that there are no shadows. If your lighting isn't the most modern, at least be sure that it's strong enough and comes from both left and right.

Poor Light May Cause Errors

By ALICIA HART

Have you seen women with rouge so heavily plastered on their cheeks that it made passers-by stare? The chances are that the lighting was poor when they made up.

These women, who are also likely to have smeared lipstick and an unbecoming shade of powder, apparently never see what they're doing when they apply make-up. They surely wouldn't want to go out in public that way if they could see themselves.

Mrs. William Westlund and infant twin daughters returned home Sunday after spending a couple of weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Art Stevenson of Perkins.

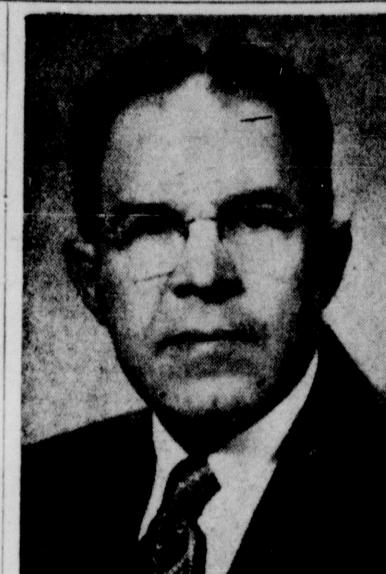

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Nicholson and daughter Delores, Royal Oak, Mich., visited briefly at the Emil Hill home Wednesday enroute to Republic where they visited with Mrs. Nicholson's mother, Mrs. Mary Warpula, at the Rest Home. Mrs. Nicholson is Mrs. Emil Hill's sister.

If you can't see without glasses, be sure to wear them when making up.

When making up for daytime, you need a strong daylight, with equal brightness flooding all parts of your face. This may mean keeping your make-up equipment in a most unlikely place. But if it's handily boxed, or on a tray, you won't mind making up in front of the kitchen window or any other place that happens to be bright.

If you have no good daylight in your home, you'll have to use artificial light. The best kinds light your mirror from behind or at sides, top and bottom, so that there are no shadows. If your lighting isn't the most modern, at least be sure that it's strong enough and comes from both left and right.

Gospel Singer At Calvary Baptist Church Sunday Night

Roy H. Boettcher, baritone soloist from Seattle, Wash., will sing and speak at the Calvary Baptist church, 301 N. 15th St., Sunday at 7:30 p. m.

Mr. Boettcher studied music in London, England, under the eminent Welsh vocal teacher and musician, Dr. T. Llewellyn-Barry. While in London, he was graduated from the Royal Academy of Music. His degree is recognized in England as the highest standard for musical performers that is offered.

During World War II, Mr. Boettcher was attached to General Omar Bradley's field headquarters as administrative assistant. At the close of the war in Europe, he sang on the worldwide hookup program announcing the ending of hostilities.

In 1951, while taking his voice training in Britain, Mr. Boettcher and several English associates took an air trip around the world. They toured the two-island dominion of New Zealand, singing in 55 public meetings and 20 radio broadcasts. They returned to London via the United States singing in Sacramento, Chicago and other cities. At present the Gospel singer is finishing his liberal arts education at Seattle Pacific College.

PARKING BY CARD TRICK---

All that's needed to park in this unattended, self-service, Chicago parking lot is a card, but the trick lies in having the right card. The card, a specially imprinted card key, is inserted in an electronic device (arrow, top photo), that "reads" the card and then lifts the gate allowing the motorist to park. A close-up of the "reading machine" is shown below. To prevent counterfeiting, the card keys are changed each month.

ADA Launches 1954 Campaign

By Congressional Quarterly

WASHINGTON — (CQ) — Can America's liberals bowl a ten-strike in next year's elections?

Answers to this question may differ sharply, but at least one organization apparently believes the answer is "Yes," and says its leaders are setting out to prove it.

Leaders of Americans for Democratic Action are currently planning the "most aggressive campaign in history" to elect liberals to Congress, according to ADA co-chairman Arthur M. Schlesinger, Jr., Pulitzer-prize-winning historian.

ADA is an organization listing 40,000 members paying yearly dues of $3 or more to 125 chapters in 40 states. Most members are affiliated with or support the Democratic Party. ADA stresses, however, that it is a "no-party, political group" open to those against Communists and for liberals, "regardless of party."

"Liberals can capture the 1954 and 1956 elections if enough of them unite in opposition to the sit-down policy of the present Administration," Schlesinger told Congressional Quarterly.

"They can do this through ADA, which has been outstandingly successful in its past electioneering, and is today stronger than ever," he said.

Variety In Its Critics

ADA was founded in 1946 by Reinhold Niebuhr, author-theologian; Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt; Thomas K. Finletter, ex-Secretary of the Air Force; Walter Reuther, now CIO chief; and others.

Its present critics range from the Communist front to traditionally conservative individuals and organizations.

Within the Democratic Party there is plenty of controversy over its role. Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.), leader of the Southern Democrats in the Senate, told a Jefferson-Jackson Day Dinner audience in Raleigh last February:

"These self-styled liberals . . . stand with one foot in and one foot out of the Democratic Party and constantly threaten to pull out unless the entire Party accedes to their demands . . . that Southern democracy . . . accept their views."

ADA officials said Russell was referring to their organization and Edward D. Hollander, newly elected national director for ADA. June 3 said the criticism was "unfair and unjust."

Has Backed Republicans

Although the majority of its members are Democratic, Hollander emphasized that ADA has supported such Republican Congress-

In This Corner

With Ray Crandall

Yesterday's rain forced cancellation of the windup scrimmage game planned by Cleveland Indian scouts Nap Ross and Mike Mychko. They had planned to wrap up the three-day school here with a full-scale scrimmage session in which all the players attending the camp would see action. Yesterday's downfall, added to the water still covering the City Diamond outfield from last week's deluge, made it impossible to play the game.

The situation points out the inadequate facilities at Escanaba's only baseball field large enough for Legion Junior and city baseball. Escanaba boasts one of the finest programs in the entire state for young ball players. But its city diamond is a water trap during rainy weather. Some effort should be made at the City Diamond to install a drainage system which would leave the field in a playable condition after rain. It's a problem that comes up each year during tournaments and league play, but nobody seems to do anything about it.

As last year, the Cleveland scouts were pleased with the school here and Nap Ross again said that Escanaba's baseball program is one of the best he's ever seen in a city this size. He was happy with the fine turnout of kids for the opening day clinic at Memorial Field. "We tried to give the youngsters a few pointers and if they remember any of the things we told them we'll be happy," Ross said yesterday.

Baseball is the entire life of these scouts, and they eat and drink it, so to speak. Both of the Cleveland men who were here with the school are very interested in Escanaba's baseball activities. And they see in the young ball players here some definite prospects for organized baseball careers in the not-too-distant future.

Soo And Stephenson Win Legion Openers

Sault Ste. Marie opened action in the 1953 American Legion Junior 11th district championship tournament this morning by defeating Powers 2-1 in a six-inning game at the Escanaba City Diamond.

At Gladstone this morning, Stephenson defeated Menominee, 15 to 7.

This morning's losers meet at Escanaba at 2 p. m. while the winners tangle at Gladstone at 2. Games will also be played at 5 at both diamonds.

Feel Milwaukee Is Too Rich For Braves' Blood

By CHRIS EDMONDS
MILWAUKEE (AP)—There's a growing belief that Milwaukee's famed hospitality is back-firing a bit as far as the city's major league baseball club is concerned.

"They're living pretty high on the hawg," was the blunt comment in the Stadium as the Milwaukee Braves closed a dismal home stand which showed only seven victories against 13 losses and a tie. "They're losing the ones they were winning before."

The team that left to open a 17-day trip tonight in St. Louis was barely out of third place and hardly the same one that came home June 16 only six percentage points off the league lead after burning up the circuit's eastern end with a 23-15 road record. The Braves promptly cuffed Philadelphia three straight and moved into first place.

Then the hitting suddenly fell off. So did the pitching. The fielding didn't appear to falter, but ground balls which had been out suddenly started to filter through to the outfield. Texas leaguers which had been caught fell in for cheap singles. The home record collapsed from 14-4 to 21-17.

Manager Charlie Grimm refuses to be ruffled by his team's slide towards third place.

Everything Goes Bad

"We're all right," he said the other night. "Nothing has happened."

But even Grimm, who was around here when Milwaukee was in the American Association, never

Bill LeMire Is U.P. Junior Golf Champion

With a sparkling 38 on his third round, William LeMire Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. William A. LeMire, 318 Lake Shore Drive, Escanaba, and a mainstay of Coach Jack Magnuson's Escanaba High School team this spring, annexed the first Upper Peninsula Junior Golf Tournament championship at the Escanaba Golf Club course yesterday.

LeMire, 16, 17-year-old LeMire beat his high school opponents, Don Murwin, of Menominee, and Joe Pesavento, of Iron Mountain, by a stroke to cop the first junior tourney ever to be held north of the Straits.

Complete scores yesterday follow:

LeMire 44-40-38-43—165
Murwin 40-40-43-43—166
Pesavento 42-44-40-40—168
Smith 46-40-42-40—168
Hirn 44-40-42-43—169

With Murwin, half-way leader in the 36-hole medal contest with 40-49—80, and Pesavento, third half-way score at the half-way mark, shot 166's to tie for runnerup honors. Murwin added two 43's in the afternoon, and Pesavento, after registering 42-44—86 in the morning, rallied with two commendable 40's on the rain-swept course in the afternoon.

Fourth place on the four-man team the Upper Peninsula will send to the state junior tournament in Midland, Mich., Monday, July 13, went to Escanaba Highland's consistent Jackie Smith, who corrected a smoothed hook that bothered him to a 46 on the first nine to add 40-42-40 for a 168 tally.

Other qualifiers—the U. P. is authorized to qualify seven for the state event—were David Hirn, of Escanaba Highland, only a stroke away at 44-40-42-43—169; Don Hoccevar, of Sault Ste. Marie, with 170, and Grant Burnett, also of the Soo, with 172.

In all probability, these seven will compete at Midland. The five low scores in that event will qualify for the national junior classic to be held over the University of Michigan course in Ann Arbor Aug. 17-22, inclusive. The U. P. Tourney was sponsored by the Escanaba Daily Press and the Escanaba Junior Chamber of Commerce.

With Murwin holding a four-stroke edge after the morning 18, the turning point of the match came at the 27th hole when LeMire holed a tricky downhill 14-foot putt for a fine 38 that put him a stroke up on Murwin at the three-quarter mark. Each of the leaders then turned in 43's for the final nine holes.

Murwin had a chance to at least tie LeMire for the top spot at the 36th, but he three-putted from 15 feet. In a bold attempt to gain a tie, the Menominee high school ace, who has an act at Menominee North Shore this season, went six feet past and missed coming back to settle for a second-place tie.

LeMire, meanwhile, went three feet past on an uphill putt and dropped the "teaser" coming back downhill for his winning 165.

Sunshine greeted the golfers from seven clubs and six U. P. cities in the morning, but a north wind and intermittent rain during the afternoon hampered their play. Despite the latter handicaps, most contestants displayed highly creditable golf in the low and mid-forties.

A feature of the play was the fact that all except three competitors settled down after shaky first-rounds to improve scores the second time around. In fact, Murwin, Hirn, LeMire, 16-year-old Glen Winters, of Iron Mountain, and young Smith fired 40's that trip, and there were such commendable times trials for Saturday night's stock car racing program at the State Fairgrounds quarter-mile track will begin at 8 and the first of the heat races at 9, Racing Association officials announced today.

An effort is being made to present a large field of cars this weekend and notices have been forwarded to 48 car owners in the Upper Peninsula and Northern Wisconsin.

Association officials state the track at the Fairgrounds is in top condition for the races. The track was graded early this week.

At least eight local drivers are expected in action as drivers continue to seek points which will enable them to race in the special Fair Week stock car program.

Key Games On Tap In First Division Races

By BEN PHLEGAR

AP Sportswriter

First division standings in the hot National League pennant chase hinge on vital series starting tonight in Brooklyn and St. Louis.

Chief American League interest over the weekend will center on Chicago where the White Sox open a five game stand against Cleveland with the runnerup spot in the American League race at stake.

The New York Giants, riding a six game winning streak and talking confidently of better things, invade Brooklyn for three games with the first place Dodgers.

Braves At St. Louis

Milwaukee's second place Braves visit St. Louis for a four game set with the Cardinals, whom they lead by half a length.

The Giants haven't cooled off since they buried Brooklyn 20-6 last Sunday. They got a brilliant two-hit shutout Thursday from rookie Ruben Gomez to down the Pittsburgh Pirates, 4-0. Brooklyn bowed to Philadelphia 6-5 and the Cards and Braves weren't scheduled.

The hustling White Sox shaved the Yankees' first place margin to five games in the American League by whipping Detroit, 4-2, while the New Yorkers were winning before the southpaw slants of Boston's Mel Parnell 4-6. Cleveland stayed 5½ games off the pace with a 9-1 verdict over the St. Louis Browns. Washington beat Philadelphia 8-4.

Giants Climbing

In handing Pittsburgh its sixth straight loss, the Giants climbed within one game of the first division.

The Dodgers kayoed Robin Roberts in the eighth inning Thursday night but their own pitching blew up and the Phils won the game with two runs in their half of the eighth. It was the first time in 29 starts that Roberts has failed to finish. Pinch hitter Smoky Burgess drove in the tying and winning runs with a double.

Parnell made Casey Stengel's All-Star pitching selections look bad as he threw his second straight shutout at Stengel's Yankees. The victory was the 12th of the year for the 31-year-old lefthander. He's the first in the league to win a dozen.

A two-run homer by Sam Mele provided the winning margin for the White Sox who have lost only five times in their last 26 starts.

The game was a replay of a May 27 contest which went 15 innings and ended in a 2-2 tie because of the night curfew.

Bob Lemon won his 11th game of the season as he gave the Browns only five hits and drove in three runs.

Ed Fitzgerald doubled home three runs in Washington's success against the faltering Athletics.

Tigers Get Big Chance To Vacate Cellar Spot

DETROIT (AP) — The day of division is here for the Detroit Tigers.

Either they must claw their way out of the American League cellar in the next three days, or they might just as well curl up and go to sleep in the depths they've guarded since the first few days of the 1952 season.

The seventh-place St. Louis Browns, only one game ahead of the Tigers, come to Briggs Stadium tonight to open a four-game series to be played in three days. A doubleheader caps it Sunday.

Fall In Fourth
They added another in the fourth. Up to that point, Marlowe had held Chicago hitless and had fanned six.

But in the fourth, Minnie Minoso touched him for a single and took third as Bob Elliott also singled. Minoso came home on Jim Rivers' fly to right, and then Mele clouted his homer and trotted across behind Elliott.

Marlowe, who now has a 7-3 record, gave the White Sox an insurance run in the fifth.

Dorris relieved starter Joe Dobson in the fourth and gave the Tigers only one hit in the next 5 1-3 innings.

'10 More Years Of Foreign Aid'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mutual Security Director Harold E. Stassen told senators Thursday he feels the United States will have to continue some sort of foreign aid program for 10 years.

Stassen, testifying before the appropriations committee in behalf of a five billion dollar money bill for foreign aid in the current fiscal year, said he thinks the Soviet Russian threat will last a decade.

Throughout that period, he said, it is his view this country will have to give military help to at least some of its free world allies. Economic aid probably can be closed out sooner, he said.

Stassen cited Turkey and Formosa as two nations close to the Communist perimeter which must have some military aid as long as the Soviet threat endures.

The Senate, in acting on a foreign aid authorization bill, has voted to close down MSA June 30, 1955, with a final deadline of 1956 on economic aid spending and 1957 on military outlays.

The House voted to let MSA die as scheduled in the present law, in mid-1954, with a 1956 expiration date on spending for both economic and military items in the pipeline.

Stassen told the senators there are signs the foreign aid program is "right at the point of its most significant results."

Referring to recent disorders in East Berlin and other Red-occupied areas, he said workers behind the Iron Curtain are now willing to stand up and risk death" at the hands of their Communist bosses.

In bygone years Americans spoke of their homes as having "five rooms (more or less) and a bath." Then along came some ingenious fellow (or fellows) who dreamed up bathtubs, and the bath moved into the home. Since then fellows of that stripe have come a long way on the slogan, "Build a Better Bathroom."

It would be well to look into what they've accomplished if you intend to modernize your present bathroom, or if you're building a new home and want to have "nothing but the best" in the bathroom.

Let's take a look at fixtures, using the bathtub and shower as the first examples.

Bathrooms are more compact, attractive and far safer than ever before. They are made in a variety of shapes—some are even square—in sizes from 42-by-31 inches to five feet by 30 inches, and may be fitted in corners or end walls. The better tubs have a raised edge on the side toward the wall to help prevent seepage of water into the wall.

Shower, of course, may be over the tub or in separate cabinets. Prefabricated shower cabinets are a coming thing because they are versatile; ideal for installation in bathrooms, attics, basements and garages in spaces as small as 32 inches square and 76 inches high.

There is something new in shower heads, too. They are non-clogging and adjustable to the spray you prefer. Mixing valves are improved and provide either thermostatic control of water temperature, one-valve mixing control, or a two-valve control for manually tempering the water.

Water closets are of three main types—the wash-down, the reverse-trap and the siphon jet. The first mentioned is least expensive, while the later costs most and is, naturally, the best. Most recent innovation in water closet design is the one-piece unit which can be placed away from a wall for cleaning ease.

Modern washbasins offer the maximum amount of usable space. The best ones have a large amount of flat space or built-in shelves. Like bathtubs, washbasins vary greatly in style and size, one of the more popular being D-shaped. Some basins are wall-hung; others have glass or chromium-plated legs.

Basins most preferred today have two valves—for hot and cold water—and one spout to permit tempering of water. The better faucets have light, fingertip control action and improved valve mechanism for greater durability and precision. Good quality valves are well worth the slight extra price.

Designers have overhauled bathroom accessories, too. One convenient safety feature is the bathtub grab-bar to aid bathers out of the tub.

Medicine cabinets have grown up. One of the newest is the illuminated wing cabinet, which boasts indirect lighting concealed behind each wing in such a way that light shines through frosted portions of the wing mirrors. It gives perfect illumination from all angles.

The finest cabinets are made of seamless porcelain or seamless baked enamel trimmed with chromium-plated brass and have mirrored doors, according to the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau.
